

Local man noted for parks service

By RANDY FRANK
ANP Staff Writer

For 31 years, John K. Sterling Jr. of Canton Township has combined his love for writing and the outdoors in his career as the public information officer of Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

Sterling was recently awarded a plaque in appreciation for outstanding service and dedication in promoting the Detroit Metropolitan Youth Fitness Program for more than 25 years.

John Sterling

Sterling has witnessed steady growth and changes since he began his career with Huron-Clinton in 1959.

"When I started there were six parks, now there's 13. The need for fees to maintain the outstanding park service, cross country skiing and the expansion of 18-hole golf courses have been some of the newer developments," he said.

Although Sterling is an institution at the metroparks, his first job after graduating from Michigan State University was as a reporter with the South Haven Daily Tribune, one of the smallest dailies in Michigan at the time.

After South Haven he wrote for the Monitor Leader, now called the Macomb Daily.

Sterling also spent some time at a publishing house, where he met his wife, Julia.

"I taught journalism and English at Saginaw High School, and worked summers at the Metro Beach recreation department," Sterling said, "That's how I found out about an opening for public information officer."

His duties as a public information officer at Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority include writing press releases, public service spots for radio/television and preparing an information guide.

He was the film coordinator for two short 20-minute films on recreation at the parks, both of which won Teddy awards in 1972 and 1988.

Staging park dedications, special events, and beach sites are also a big part of his job, according to Sterling.

The talent for writing and editing runs deep in the Sterling family.

Sterling's daughter, Victoria, works as a film supervisor for ABC television network in Studio City, California.

An avid tennis player, Sterling enjoyed watching the U.S. Open recently.

Unfortunately, an injury has sidelined him from participating in the doubles league at the Huron Valley Tennis Club, where he is a member.

As an information officer for the metroparks, Sterling enjoys the opportunity to visit the 13 parks.

It's still "an exciting experience" to see a deer at Kensington Metropark, he said.

Occasionally, he will photograph the scenery.

During his long career, Sterling has been a member of several professional organizations including the Michigan Outdoor Writer, Sigma Delta Chi, a society of professional journalists and the National Recreation Parks Association.

In 1989, Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority named him employee of the year.

Sterling considers himself "fortunate to have a rewarding career with an outstanding regional park system."

An 18-year resident of Canton, he is impressed with the numerous cultural and recreational activities which the township now offers.

Michigan Bell Service Bulletin

Important: Action you must take if your phone number begins with 753.

Now you have a choice of long distance companies for Dial 1 Plus service.
Don't leave that choice to chance.

Watch the mail and make your choice soon.

If you have not already received it, you soon will be getting complete information from Michigan Bell by mail, along with a ballot listing your choices of Dial 1 Plus long distance companies. Your Dial 1 Plus options and the steps you should take are described in detail. And you will be given the date by which you must make your selection to avoid having a long distance company randomly selected for you.

If your phone number does not begin with the number above, don't worry. You will be notified when your area is ready for Dial 1 Plus service.

Don't give up your right to choose.

As part of the restructuring of the telephone industry, you must choose a company for Dial 1 Plus service or such a company will be chosen for you. Should this happen, it will be a random selection by computer. We urge you to make your own choice—because a company selected at random will not necessarily be one that best serves your specific needs. The information you receive will include telephone numbers for the various long distance companies, so you can easily look into their services and charges before you make your choice.

What is Dial 1 Plus?

Dial 1 Plus is simply dialing "1," plus the area code (when necessary), plus the telephone number to complete a long distance call outside of your LATA. Companies offering long distance service can now offer you the same Dial 1 Plus service previously available only to customers of AT&T.

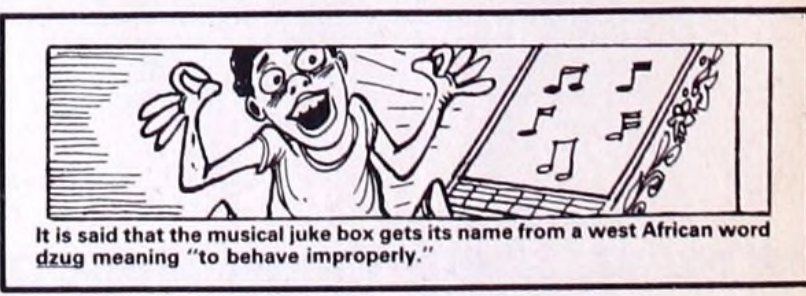

Need more help? Let's Talk!

Michigan Bell cannot recommend a long distance company, but if you have any questions about Dial 1 Plus service, or if you have misplaced the ballot we mailed, just call your business office. The number is listed on your phone bill or in the front of your Ameritech PagesPlus® directory.

Head of the Class

New principal offers elementary students chance to learn

By THEODORE G. COUTILISH
ANP News Editor

It's difficult to believe Phyllis Adkins was once bashful in class.

"If you didn't know me, you would never know I was in a room," said Adkins, the friendly first-time principal of Cory Elementary School. "I would spend more time trying not to be noticed than on the lecture."

But things quickly changed after she walked into the fifth grade of a Leesburg, Va., elementary school in 1961.

"I can remember the first day in Edna Jackson's classroom," she said, wiping tears from her eyes. "I'll never forget it. She asked me a question and it was the first time a teacher asked me something. I wasn't going to respond, but she didn't allow me not to respond. She came back to me five times. I finally answered."

Now Adkins, 38, intends to give the same learning opportunity to 474 elementary students through motivational incentives as a group, rather than as individuals.

"If you reward the entire class, not just the gifted but at-risk students as well, then everyone feels better about learning," she said. "Some students are slow learners, while others may be shy. It may take time for them to process information or to speak in class. We have to

I would say 95 percent of this job is compassion. Kids give you energy and keep you alive. They don't allow you to get cynical. They keep you fresh. They've rejuvenated me.

Principal

give them the same chance I had to learn."

Adkins describes herself as "extremely optimistic" and nowhere is this more evident than in her handling of young students and teachers. Just when you thought it was safe to go back to the classroom this fall, here comes Adkins. If you think Detroit Lions Coach Wayne Fontes is friendly, wait'll you get a load of Adkins. No should be unscathed, no hand unshaken.

In class, Adkins jumps around like a mother at a family gathering.

"I would say 95 percent of this job is compassion," Adkins said. "Kids give you energy and keep you alive. They don't allow you to get cynical. They keep you fresh. They've rejuvenated me."

The windmilling hands never stop moving as Adkins describes the profession she has come to love. But in spite of her optimism, she knows there is still room for improvement.

"Schools in general face a challenge of finding new ways to inspire and motivate students," Adkins said. "We can no longer afford to separate ourselves from parents and the community. We have come up with a new definition of how schools can be used. Evening services are a possibility. We need to work as a team with the community."

Being a team player has worked well for Adkins. Since graduating from Western College for Women in Oxford, Ohio, in 1974 and receiving a master's degree from the University of Michigan in 1975, Adkins has taught at nearly every level and field of education in Romulus Community Schools.

As a teacher at Barth, Beverly and Cory elementary schools, she has worked in adult education, special education, preschool, government-sponsored programs and as an advisor to the Class of 1990. She also has served as district consultant of extra-curricular activities and attendance incentives.

"I never liked individual sports," she said. "I like being on a team, playing every position."

And also to give each student the chance to learn. You never know, one might even grow up to be principal.

Park renovation awarded plaque

By THEODORE G. COUTILISH
ANP News Editor

John Long must be proud. The Romulus Civic League has refurbished a basketball court, which was originally dedicated to the former NBA star, along with buying and installing playground equipment at its neighborhood park.

For its efforts to improve the quality of life in the neighborhood, first lady Janey A. Blanchard presented a Neighborhood Builder's Alliance plaque last week to the Romulus Civic League.

"While state government alone cannot rebuild a declining neighborhood or organize citizen efforts to fight crime, it can and should get behind those individuals and neighborhood groups that are making a dedicated effort to improve their communities," Blanchard told approximately 50 people gathered at the park.

The rehabilitation project, which was completed last summer, included buying picnic tables, sand, benches, basketball posts, backboards and nets.

"The park, more or less, was just a play area before," said Willie Hester, president of the Romulus Civic League. "It didn't have any equipment and the basketball court was pretty shoddy."

Today, between 30 and 40 people use the rehabilitated park daily, Hester said.

"Without a doubt, we applied for a government grant for the new equipment because there was a need for a park," Hester said. "Without a park, our kids would have to venture across the railroads or even across the expressway into other neighborhoods for their recreational needs."

"The bottom line is the civic league was created in the 1940s to provide a recreational facility for neighborhood kids. We would rather give the kids a safe and healthy outlet rather than see them walking around doing nothing on the streets."

Local police work to lessen risk of child kidnappings

By RANDY FRANK
ANP Staff Writer

Parents and educators play a big role in preventing children from becoming a statistic on the missing children's list.

Although most missing children cases, under the age of 16, are usually runaways, rather than stranger abduction cases, police departments have preventive programs to inform parents and youngsters with protection advice.

Wayne children have the "Stranger Awareness Program," which is taught at elementary schools, according to Lt. Dan Randall of the Wayne Police Department crime prevention bureau.

If classroom teachers ask police for help on covering the topic, Randall or Officer Ken Kissel will give a presentation to students on how to stay away from strangers.

The half-hour discussion with elementary students can be beneficial, but sometimes children are more fascinated with an officer's uniform or gun rather than the program, Randall said.

"We've never had a problem with missing children, but it's good to be prepared for situation with information."

— Lt. Dan Randall Wayne Police Officer

That's why a parental education program is often more effective, he said.

Parents can learn about crime prevention, including dealing with strangers, through the Citizens Against Crime and Neighborhood Watch groups.

Some helpful tips include not having children talk to strangers, making sure children don't go places alone and if children notice something suspicious at their home, while their parents are away, they should go to a neighbor's home and report it.

Another helpful tip for "latch key" kids, children alone at home while the parents are at work, is to make sure children know proper telephone etiquette, Randall said.

When a child answers the phone, he or she should say their parents are busy at the moment and take a message rather than say they are not home.

The Citizens Against Crime group videotapes children with McGruff, the crime dog which police departments use to promote crime prevention programs, at the Wayne Fall and Winter festivals.

The $3 fee covers the cost of a video tape. There is no fee if parents supply a tape.

Randall said he hopes the department will obtain a McGruff robot, which gives a half-hour, tape-recorded message to kids.

The problem is the robot's $7,000 price tag.

The department may seek donations in the community to buy the robot.

Kids really love McGruff, and will listen to the audio tape message of avoiding potentially dangerous situations, according to Randall.

Fingerprinting children, strictly for identification purposes, is another measure used by Wayne police.

"We've never had a problem with missing children, but it's good to be prepared for situation with information," Randall said.

The "Citizens Against Crime" will have a meeting at 7 p.m. Sept. 19 at the Wayne Police Department.

Free lunches offered

By RANDY FRANK
ANP Staff Writer

Residents of Western Wayne County with children attending public schools, preschools, child care centers and Head Start programs in the county may qualify for free meals at school or meals at a reduced price for the 1990-91 school year.

These education programs in Wayne County are participating in the federally reimbursed Child Nutrition Programs.

Children from families, whose income is at or below the established minimum income levels, may be eligible for free or reduced meals or free milk.

The income levels vary depending on the size of the household.

Application forms with a letter will be sent to parents and guardians of all homes. To apply, parents must fill out the form and return it to the school their youngster attends.

Additional copies of the form are available at school principals' offices.

An application needs the following information, or it can't be processed by the school: monthly source of income received by the household member, a household's food stamp case or AFDC number, names of all household members, social security number of the primary wage earner and the signature of an adult household member.

Applicants, who currently receive food stamps or Aid to Families with Dependent Children, only need to list the child's name, food stamp or AFDC number and sign the application.

Each school district in the area has a copy of the complete policy, which may be reviewed.

Parents or guardians dissatisfied with a ruling can discuss the decision with the official, who made the ruling.

If any member of a household believes that the household was discriminated against on the basis of race, age, sex or handicap, they should write to the Secretary of the Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Envotech invites residents to open house

Vegetables grown in water and electricity generated from closed landfills are two of the highlights of the Sept. 16 open house tour, hosted by the only hazardous waste landfill in the state.

Between 1 and 5 p.m., the public is invited to tour the facilities of Wayne Disposal, Inc., Michigan Disposal, Inc., Wayne Energy Recovery and Willow Run Farms, Inc., on Interstate-94 North Service Drive, just east of Rawsonville Road.

Visitors will be able to tour the innovative energy recovery powerhouse and hydroponic greenhouse as well as view the disposal and treatment facilities.

"We had such a positive response from the community last year with more than 350 attending that we decided to open our doors to the public again," said George Schutte, program liaison for Envotech. "We're offering our neighbors the opportunity to come in, look us over and see how modern environmental protection facilities operate."

"There is a lot of confusion and misinformation about how hazardous waste is handled, processed, treated and disposed. Now, people can get to know better and see for themselves how our related group of companies protect and enhance the Michigan environment."

Belleville City Editor

Calling all Sherlock Holmes and Ellery Queens – it's time to use your powers of detection to find the "buried baubles" in the Belleville Central Business Community-sponsored treasure hunt.

Directions for the hunt will be given to participants at 10 a.m. Saturday in the Fourth Street Mall, on Main Street, and refreshments will be served before the hunters begin their searches. The first person to correctly gather the listed items – all within the city limits of Belleville – will be awarded the grand prize. The contest will close at J.B.'s Lounge, in the Belle Plaza, at 3 p.m.

Individuals who wish more information about the hunt may ask coordinators of Belleville's Buried Baubles, Ginger Bruder, Cyndy Suliman, Pam Brigandi and Janet Millard for information about the event.

The treasure hunt has been scheduled to serve a dual purpose, according to its organizers. First, it will provide an afternoon of entertainment for participants, and, second, it will attract additional visitors to the downtown area.

"We have more than 100 stores and professional offices in the downtown area, and we want people to know that these shops and services are available. The treasure hunt is one way to increase awareness about downtown Belleville," said Bruder, CBC chairperson and "We want participants to be aware that the treasure hunt will include all of the Belleville business community," Suliman said. "This includes the downtown area and also Belle Plaza, on Sumpter Road. While most of the items on the list are from the downtown area, there are some items which can be found in other areas – all within the city limits of Belleville." list.

Most of all, the event coordinators said, the event will be fun for the participants, and prizes will be awarded.

Although the sponsors of the contest are not offering any hints to the public, they are advising participants to bring a shopping bag to collect items.

The $10 registration fee includes a T-shirt, which reads "Belleville's Buried Baubles," and pre-event refreshments.

Participants will gather at the Fourth Street Mall at 10 a.m. where T-shirts and the treasure hunt list will be distributed and coffee and pastries will be served. Participants will begin the hunt at approximately 10:45 a.m. and bring their items to J.B.'s Lounge, in the Belle Plaza, when the list is completed. Prizes will be awarded to those who finish quickly and have the correct listed items.

Advance registrations are available at Miss Ginger's on Main Street, 369 Main St., between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m.; Mobile Home Brokers, 397 Main St., between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.; and the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce, 116 Fourth St., between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. Those who register by mail should enclose a check for $10 and include their T-shirt size with their name, address and phone number.

Absentee votes can be critical

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Absentee ballots can mean the difference between victory and defeat, according to Inkster School Board candidate Lorenzo Moner.

Unfortunately for Moner, who had defeated incumbent John Rucker for the four-year board seat when the regular ballots were counted, his dream of victory dissipated when poll workers tallied absentee ballots.

The six-vote margin of defeat (283-277) in the Moner-Rucker case, which became only a five-vote margin after a recount, reflects the importance of absentee ballots.

More and more seniors are opting to vote by absentee ballots than in the past, according to Wayne County Clerk James R. Killeen. He offers several reasons seniors are staying away from the polls and voting in the comfort of their homes.

"The absentee ballot is an excellent idea, especially for those who are elderly or sick and would like to vote but can't go to the polls," Killeen said.

"There are several reasons people elect to vote by the absentee ballot," he added. "Some are frustrated by the long ballots they face, embarrassed to go before the public and unfamiliarity of the mechanics also keep others away."

"We have found that most seniors take less than three minutes to vote which means they don't really spend much time in the booth. By voting absentee, the confidentiality is protected while you're in a familiar surrounding."

According to Michigan Election laws, a registered voter may request an absentee ballot for the following reasons:

- The voter cannot attend the polls because of religion.
- Has been appointed an election precinct inspector in a precinct other than the precinct where they reside.
- The voter is physically unable to attend the polls without the assistance of another.
- The voter expects to be absent from the community on election day.
- The voter is 60 years or older;
- The voter can't attend the polls because he/she is confined to jail awaiting arraignment or trial.

Under Michigan law, absentee ballots must be sent to avo-tee's legal address unless the person is hospitalized or institutionalized.

Election officials believe security procedures and the handling of absentee ballots should be tightened. They warn absentee ballots should not be given to a stranger to mail. The vote could be challenged if a third person, other than a close relative, handled the ballot.

A person who makes a false statement in his application for an absentee ballot may be guilty of a misdemeanor.

The deadline to request an absentee ballot for the Nov. 6 general election is Nov. 3.

Blanchard sets pace of the race

By RANDY FRANK
ANP Staff Writer

As the Michigan gubernatorial race swings into full gear, Gov. James Blanchard is outlining his campaign with details on the issues.

The big issues: property tax reform, equity for all school districts, affordable housing for seniors and low-to-moderate income citizens.

In Blanchard's "50 50 Educational Partnership Plan," he addresses four points or "guarantees," according to Katie Wolf, spokesperson for the Blanchard re-election campaign.

Under the plan, Blanchard believes 50 percent of public education should be funded by the state and 50 percent from other sources, according to Wolf.

The first point is a quality guarantee to improve schools and curriculums.

Public Act 25, "The Quality Education Package," which Blanchard recently signed into law, requires each district to establish a core curriculum and the strategies needed to implement the measure.

The goals of the package are based on outcomes for all students, that is setting a standard skill level, which all students should achieve for effective adult living.

The next point of Blanchard's plan is the employment guarantee. This element requires each high school graduate to have a basic level of employability skills, Wolf said.

A one-year survey of businesses in Michigan helped pin-point characteristics employers are looking for in prospective employees, she added.

Starting in the 10th grade, students will begin to learn what private businesses will expect of them upon graduation, Wolf said.

The incumbent governor intends to bridge the gap of financial inequity, which currently exists in school districts around the state.

Gov. James Blanchard

Blanchard wants each student in the state to receive a quality education with the same opportunities, according to Wolf.

"Allocating an equal amount of money for each district in the state won't bring equity. Some districts will need more to bring them to equity," Wolf said.

Blanchard has also proposed to cap property tax increases to no more than the inflation rate, according to Wolf.

About $50 million has been earmarked in Blanchard's budget proposal to improve public schools in the state.

An affordable college education is also a concern with the governor.

Blanchard wants to limit tuition increases to 6.5 percent or within the inflation rate, Wolf said.

He plans on vetoing public university budgets, which don't adhere to this proposal, she explained.

Blanchard also expects to get a boost from his recently named candidate for lieutenant governor, Olivia (Libby) Maynard, who is a proponent of abortion rights, women's issues and rights of the elderly.

Seniors net block grants

Projects for Van Buren Township senior citizens will gain funding from the 1990-91 Community Development Block Grant funds.

The township has expanded emphasis on services to the growing senior citizen population with the continued development of September Days Senior Center and other services to the elderly and other low/medium income residents.

The funds will be allocated as follows:

- September Days Senior Center, $38,000;
- Housing Rehabilitation, $19,000;

- Minor Home Repair, $4,500;
- Information Center, $1,000, and

- Administration, $7,000.

In addition, $29,000 in 1989-90 block grant funds, which had been earmarked for demolition of condemned structures, were reallocated. Approval was granted for $5,000 to be used to fund the purchase of a computer, printer and computer supplies for the senior center; $9,000 for rehabilitation of homes, and $15,000 for improvements in recreational facilities.

Engler stakes claim on seat

Republican gubernatorial candidate John Engler may be behind in the polls, but the battle is just beginning.

Engler, state Senate Majority Leader, has been shaking hands across the state in an effort to get his proposals in the minds of voters.

He selected Sen. Connie Binsfeld (R-Maple City) several weeks ago to run alongside him as lieutenant governor.

Engler is capitalizing on the smoothness of his lieutenant governor selection process, while Gov. James J. Blanchard, his opponent is reeling from the effects of announcing Martha Griffiths would not be his running mate.

Education and school funding is the biggest issue facing the people of Michigan, Engler said in a recent interview.

Engler proposes "freeing up" $5 million for education in the state by enacting a hiring freeze and a halt to outside contracts in Michigan.

"I'm not going to appoint a lot of committees and task forces. I'm going to put more people on the service level," Engler said.

"We don't need a constitutional amendment (to solve the school issue). It must be resolved by the legislature and the governor," Engler said.

Engler proposes a fixed budget for schools with the state returning to 50-percent participation in funding. He also believes in closing the gap between poor districts and rich districts.

"The lottery money should just be icing on the cake," he said.

Engler advocates local control of schools, but proposes that school districts be more "outcome-oriented". He also advocates more control to discipline students.

Property tax cuts, across the board, are also a part of the Engler plan. Such cuts, he said, would improve the business climate in the state allowing small businesses to stay afloat.

"It's new priorities, not new taxes, that are important," Engler said.

Engler has challenged Blanchard to a debate, but the terms of such a meeting have not been agreed upon.

"The formats suggested to date," he said, "have not allowed for complete exchange of ideas."

Polls now indicate that Engler trails Blanchard by a small margin.

The real test will be Nov. 7 at the polls.

Opinion

Recall for wrong reasons

A group of residents in Wayne filed their petitions last week with the county clerk calling for the recall of all seven Wayne City Councilmembers.

If the names on the petitions are found to be legitimate, the recall issue will be placed on the ballot for the voters of Wayne to make a final decision.

At first we praised the constructive exchange of ideas and criticisms between the Wayne Charter Committee and the governmental leaders of Wayne. Such communication is healthy for a community.

A recall of this entire council, or even a single member, however, is to the extreme and is not constructive.

The right of citizens to petition for the recall of elected officials is critical, but should only be used when situations demand it.

If an elected official is found to be involved in a criminal act, or is taking part in some illegal or immoral activity, then the recall privilege should come into play.

The seven individuals who occupy posts on the Wayne City Council, however, have not been convicted of a crime, they have not even been before a judge on major civil matters directly relating to their positions in government.

Therefore, it appears the cart has been placed before the horse.

Members of the charter committee say the council is in violation of keeping accurate meeting minutes for the planning commission. Yet the planning commission is responsible for keeping their own minutes, and no court has determined that the minutes are lacking.

The charter committee leadership points a collective finger at Mayor Patrick Norton and says his business interests represent a conflict of interest. Norton, however, has never been before a judge on such an issue, and has not been found guilty of any such charge.

Charter committee members accuse the council of showing favoritism to certain businesses, and deliberately withholding variances and permits from those who are not on their "good side". There has been no concrete proof of such action, however. No court has found the city guilty of such a charge.

So the recall campaign has been nothing but a group of "finger-pointers" hurling accusations and determining which ones stick.

The general public has been drawn into the matter because the accusations are hurled at public meetings, and therefore published in newspapers. So, when the petition made its way to the door, residents were left to make a decision based upon what might be considered an incomplete picture.

The Wayne City Council is not a perfect group of people — what governmental body is. They have made mistakes and have had shortcomings.

This newspaper company has had its own share of run-ins with the group. We have filed charges twice claiming failure to comply with the Open Meetings Act. Once, members of council were chastised and given warning by the court. In the second case, the matter was not deemed significant enough to be heard by the court.

The war waged by the charter committee, however, is one plagued with personal, emotional attack and innuendo. Councilmembers are repeatedly subjected to personal attacks at public meetings — something no human being deserves.

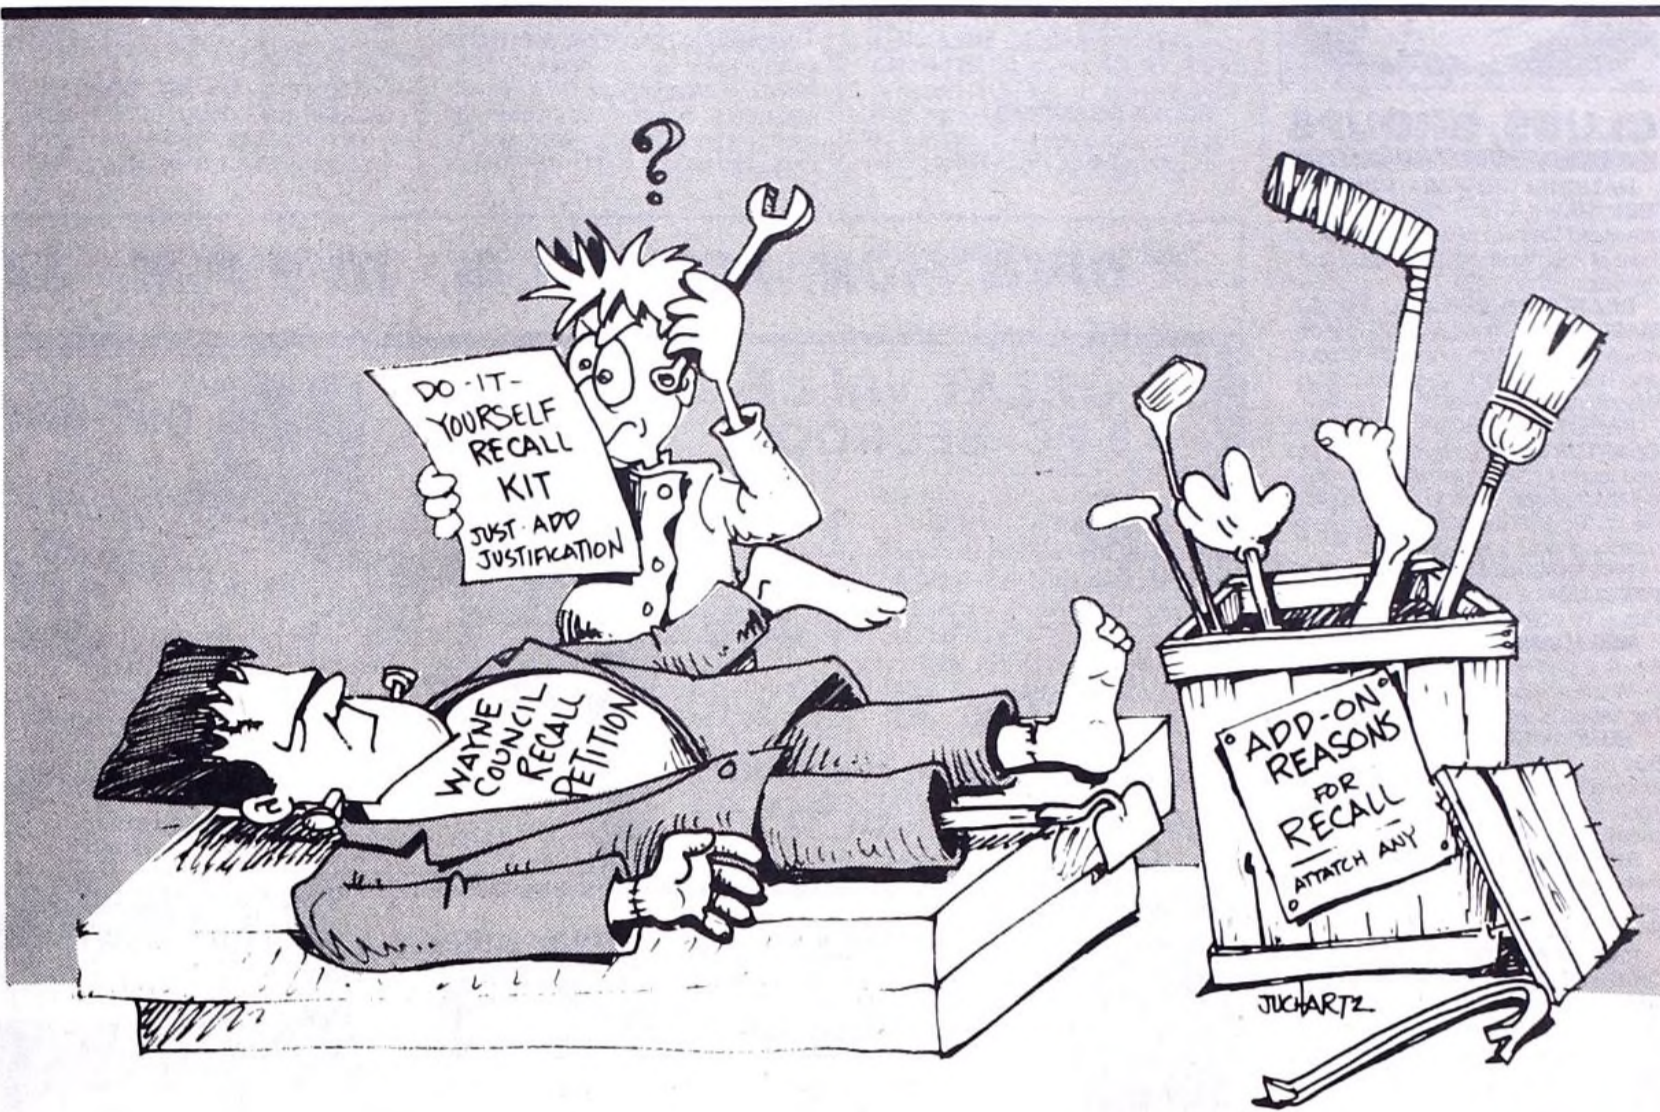

These attacks, to date, have had no concrete evidence to back them up, and yet they become part of the public record because they are stated at a public meeting.

Members of Wayne City Council are not high-paid officials. In some cases they end up making no money due to extraordinary expenses as part of their duties.

All things considered, Wayne City Councilmembers appear willing to do the "right thing" and seem to have the "best interest" of the city at heart.

They are sometimes forced to make unpopular decisions which in turn makes them unpopular, but that is part of the role they play. They do not deserve this abuse and mistreatment.

Nothing they have done to date justifies a recall.

Paragraphs don't pass muster

Thank you for printing my "Letter to the Editor" which you entitled "Group's Goal To Cure Apathy." Perhaps my introductory and concluding paragraphs were to pungent for printing. I'll try and tone them down a little so they may pass scrutiny for publication in your very pro-administration, pro-school board official newspaper of the Wayne-Westland Community School Board. You certainly don't cut slanted letters such as "Letters Are Amusing," which appeared just in front of mine.

In 1987-88, in the face of a citizens grand jury, the Wayne-Westland administration slogan was "Positive Attitudes Are Contagious."

In 1988-89, in the face of four employees being indicted for fraud, the yearly slogan was "Positive Actions Move Us Forward."

In 1989-90, in the face of rising criticism of school officials' attitudes and actions which were not positive, the slogan printed on every Wayne Memorial High School student's schedule was "Be Positive or Be Quiet."

In the midst of the hearings in the Department of Education and the 18th District Court over the student head count for state aid money, a number of senior citizen students were counted present in class on the Fourth Friday of September. However, their death certificates verified they had died the previous July or August. The Wayne-Westland Superintendent is quoted in the local newspaper emphatically declaring the problem was a result of "sloppy bookkeeping" and "crappy management."

Is it possible the current lack of credibility in the school officials is a direct result of the same attitudes and actions which generated that fiasco?

Melvin C. Straight
Vice Chairman
Citizens For Education Committee

Note: The only reason we edit letters to the editor is for space limitations. We ask that writers of letters to the editor keep their letters brief and to the point so we can publish all letters in a timely fashion. Also, placement of letters to the editor are not pre-arranged, but is rather done randomly. As letters reach the top of the pile, they are published.

Superintendent states case

Although Melvin C. Straight, a Wayne-Westland counselor, continues to be issued a check every payday, as are all the other EMPLOYEES of this district, he continues to identify himself as "Citizens for Education" in his letters to the editor. The primary difference between Mr. Straight and other employees of the district who choose to exercise their democratic freedom is most of them, as well as most other citizens, would make an effort to accurately assess the school district's financial status before offering their advice.

Unfortunately, Mr Straight refers to suggestions offered through spokesman Dave Moranty. With the misleading financial information in Mr. Straight's letter, which appeared in the Associated Newspapers' Aug. 30, 1990, edition, I can clearly understand the committee's total lack of understanding of the complexity of the problem.

Mr. Straight accurately reported state aid per pupil in Wayne-Westland for 1989-90 compared with 1990-91 accounts for a revenue loss of $285,000. That's only a small part of the puzzle. The district has a projected loss of 250 students which is another loss of $992,337. This total loss in state aid alone amounts to $1,277,337. Another substantial error in Mr. Straight's analysis relates to the Robin Hood bill recently passed by the Michigan Legislature which takes $50 million from out-of-formula districts for a substantial increase in categorical aid. Wayne-Westland will benefit greatly from the increase. His statement is totally inaccurate! The $50 million taken from out-of-formula districts was put into the formula which Mr. Straight has already added into his calculation of the per pupil allowance. There is no way we will receive that money twice, and rather than an increase in categorical aid for 1990-91 Wayne-Westland will have a decrease in every category except pre-school, which obviously doesn't affect the K-12 general fund budget and special education. We have projected a decrease in categorical aid of more than $240,000.

As a part of our 1987-90 three-year plan, $3 million of fund equity was used to balance the 1989-90 budget. Without any pay increase for employees, use of another $2 million of fund equity is necessary to meet the 1990-91 increased costs for operating the district (utilities, insurance, supplies, equipment, etc.) If, as they claim, the Citizens Committee for Education strives for accountability of the School Board and of the Administration in Wayne-Westland, they should serve as a model emphasizing accuracy in their own accounting rather attempting to dupe our voters with inaccurate and incomplete financial claims.

Water millage disputed

As a former trustee and member of the water and sewer commission for the Charter Township of Van Buren, I would like to disseminate the following information with regard to the upcoming continuation of the 6 mill proposal.

In April 1986 the auditors notified the township board there was a need to consider additional millage to cover court-ordered payments for South Huron Valley Wastewater Control System (Mini Sewer). As a result of their recommendations a 4-mill ballot question was placed on the November '86 ballot which failed. However, since failure of the '86 millage not a bond payment has been missed, and a large monetary surplus remains.

Residents are now faced with a 6-mill continuation to be voted on August 7th. Are 6 mills really necessary?

Academy nominees are sought

U.S. Sen. Donald Riegle is accepting applications for nomination to the four military service academies: West Point, Annapolis, the Air Force Academy and the Merchant Marine Academy. Most applicants are high school seniors, but the academies do accept nominees up to the age of 22 who meet requirements.

Ten applicants for each academy opening will be submitted by Riegle. Representatives of the academies will then select from those nominees.

To obtain an application, contact one of Riegle's offices: 352 Saginaw St., Suite 910, Flint, MI 48502; or 109 West Michigan Ave., Suite 705, Lansing, MI 48933.

Development director named

John M. Pollick has been appointed director of community development division of the Wayne County Department of Jobs and Economic Development.

In his new position, Pollick will consult and advise chief elected officials in 38 Wayne County communities to encourage community and economic development projects. He is also responsible for administering the $3.2 million Urban County Community Development Block Grant Program.

Teens benefit from camp

For displaying active community service and professional salesmanship, young adults involved with Michigan Elite Teens were awarded a two-day camping trip to Walnut Hills campground in Durand.

More than 20 youngsters received a two-day outing as a result of their sales efforts during the year.

Among those attending the camp were: Darren Longton of Westland; Danny Sankey, William Wright, Danny Lofton, Quenton Jackson and Jake Jackson of Inkster; Pat Lamb and Rachael Line of Belleville.

Letters from home

As the news of servicemen leaving for duty in the Persian Gulf area is reported, many area residents are looking for ways to show their support and boost their morale.

One way area residents can show their concern is by sending cards and letters to servicemen stationed in the Mideast. Individuals who do not know the address of a serviceman, may send a card or letter to a general address.

Cards and letters may be sent to an unspecified serviceman by addressing the communication to: Any service member, Operation Desert Shield, APO New York, 09848-0006, for the Army, Air Force and Marines Corps members in Saudi Arabia, or FPO New York 09866-0006, for the Navy and Marine Corps members aboard ships in the region.

Opportunity knocked, and I answered the door. Usually, I'm washing my hair, in the shower or emptying the cat box, but not this time. No sir. This time the chance to finally wreak vengeance on my arch enemy in life has presented itself and I am taking full advantage of it.

Admittedly, the guy standing at the door (metaphorically speaking) didn't look much like the masked avenger of down-trodden damsels. No matter. To me, he looks exactly like Tom Selleck, only better.

My new best friend works in our retail advertising department as an account representative. He's an unassuming, quiet kind of man who still doesn't realize the fiendish joy he brought to my black heart last week when he innocently offered me a recipe from his mom.

Bob explained that his mom had gotten this recipe from a friend of a friend or a second cousin who was her own aunt's grandmother or something like that (I wasn't fully awake just yet in this part of his story) and that he thought I might want it.

According to his contemporary legend, this poor innocent woman phoned the Mrs. Fields' Cookies main office and requested the recipe for the chocolate chip cookies of the same name. It was at the mention of Mrs. Fields that I immediately began to pay very close attention. My feelings regarding this temptress are well documented and will not be repeated as I am attempting to refine my language so that I no longer offend drunken sailors.

The individual was told that she would be sent the recipe for a fee of "two-fifty." Thinking that was certainly a nominal enough charge for duplicating, postage and processing, the caller immediately agreed and ordered the recipe, which arrived shortly thereafter in the mail. Unfortunately, it was accompanied by a bill for $250. Yep. Two hundred and fifty dollars for Mrs. Fields' secret cookie recipe.

Like any sane person, she phoned the company and protested. The executives and supervisors remained adamant that she had placed the order and agreed to the fee. Her attorney was unable to convince a judge otherwise, and she was forced to pay Debbie Fields and company the $250 plus court costs and legal fees, or so the legend claims.

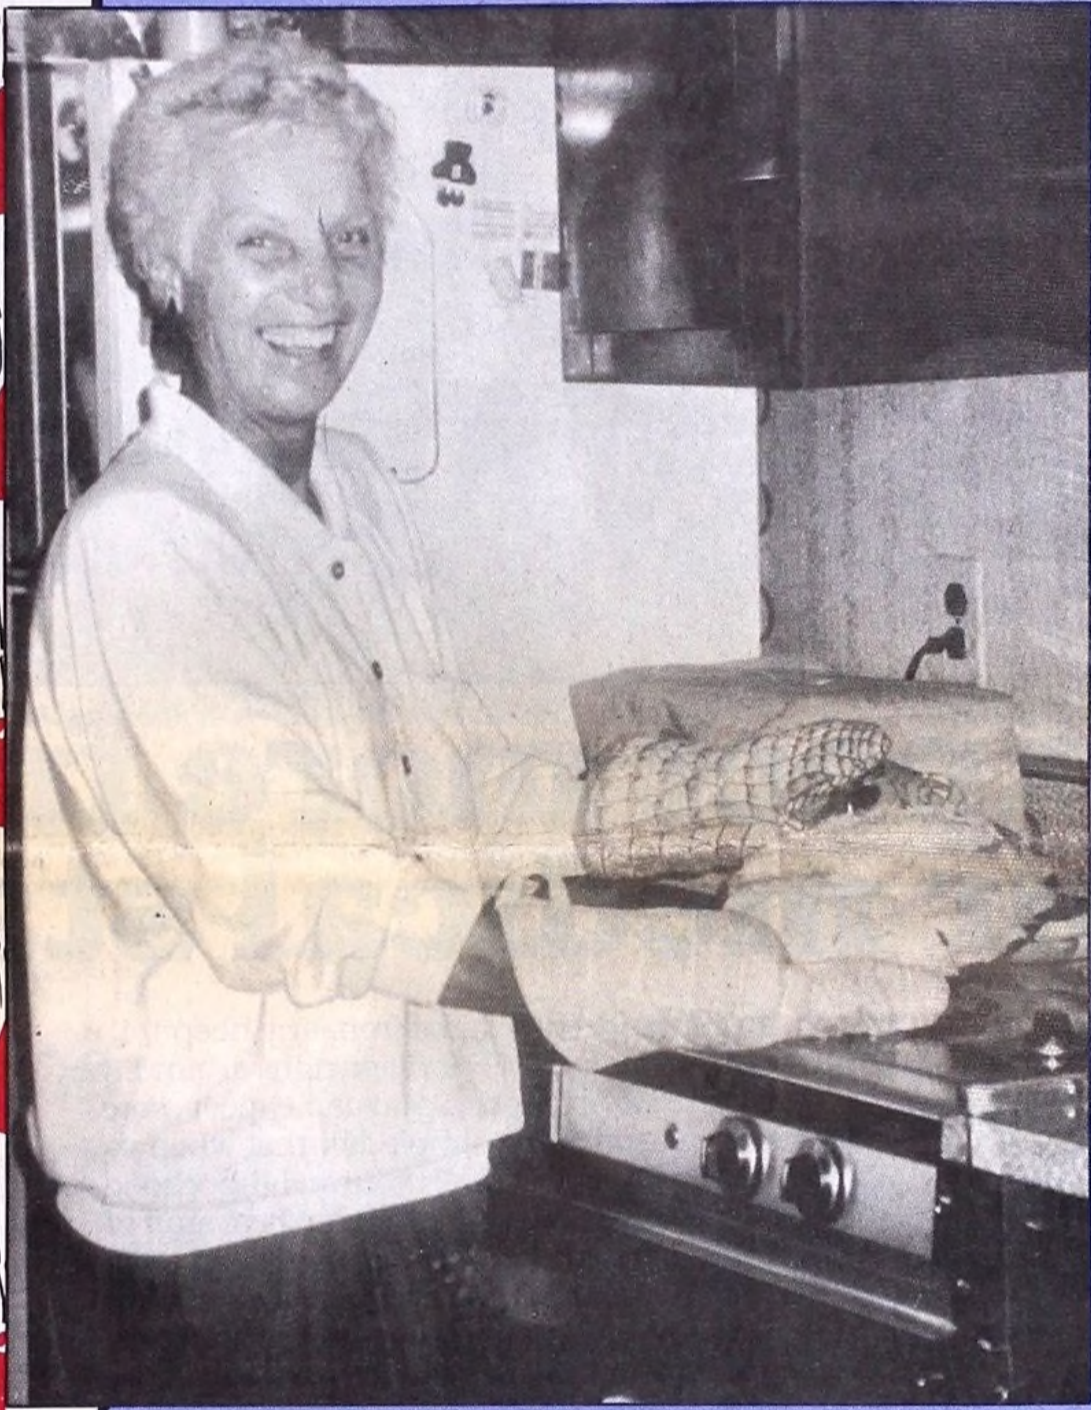

Having a nature somewhat like mine, she has decided the best way to demonstrate her feelings about this situation is to give Debbie's secret recipe to anyone and everyone who wants it. After all, she paid for it and it is now hers according to the law to do with as she might choose.

Bob's mom gave it to him, he gave it to me and now I'm going to reveal it to you. My husband, whose unrivaled penchant for Mrs. Fields' cookies is the basis for my insane jealousy of the strumpet, has pronounced these every bit as delicious as those purchased from you-know-who.

Hah! Gotcha, Debbie. That'll teach ya to lure my husband away from my kitchen for satisfaction. Pack up your cookie sheets, sweetie, you're all done in this town.

Cinnamon treats

Using basic pie dough, roll out crust and spread with butter. Sprinkle sugar and cinnamon over butter and roll up like jelly roll. Cut into 1/2 inch peices. Put on cookie sheet (ungreased) and bake at 425 degrees for 15 minutes. Reduce heat to 325 degrees and bake for about 20 minutes. I usually just put them in the oven with my pies.

ANP Staff Writer

Marguerite Hodgkins has been making delectable fruit pies for years. Asked for the secret of her success, Hodgkins said most of her cooking secrets were passed down from her mother when she was a child growing up in Johnstown, Pa.

But the real reason she has become a great pie-maker is because her late husband, Pete, was a pie-lover.

Every June, Hodgkins knew it was time to head to Belleville and pick strawberries, because her husband would be expecting strawberry shortcake.

Later in the summer, she would lift a small bowl and walk over to neighbors to pick blackberries after dinner. Each time she returned, she brought back barely enough berries to fill the small bowl. But by the end of the summer, Hodgkins always had enough to make her husband's favorite pie - black raspberry.

In the fall, she would send her daughter out to Wiard's Orchard in Ypsilanti to buy some Northern Spy apples. "Those were Pete's favorite. He would say they were a good tart apple," Hodgkins said.

Just when it seemed pie season was over. Thanksgiving rolled around and it was time for pumpkin pie. But this isn't your ordinary pie - it's Mrs. Shank's pumpkin pie.

When Hodgkins and her husband were first married 38 years ago, they moved into the upstairs of an old farmhouse on Cherry Hill. Mrs. Shank taught Hodgkins, the new bride, how to make her special pumpkin pie. After all of the years, her five children still refer to the pie as Mrs. Shank's.

A friend of the family, who is especially fond of Mrs. Shank's pumpkin pie, has been telling Hodgkins she should open her own pie shop.

"She could name the shop Marguerite's Pennsylvania Pies," said her daughter, Barb.

Hodgkins has now passed along some of her baking secrets to her daughter, just like her mother did years ago.

My Grandmother's Deep Dish Apple Pie

- 5 or 6 cups apples, pared and cut into small pieces
3/4 cup light brown sugar
2 tablespoons flour
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon or more butter
1 unbaked pie crust

Toss apple pieces, brown sugar, flour, cinnamon and lemon juice in a bowl until apple pieces are well coated. Place them in a deep pie plate or casserole. Dot with butter. Top with pie crust bringing edges over sides of dish and pressing them with fork. Prick crust in several places with a fork. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 to 40 minutes or until done. Serve plain or with cream or hard sauce. Serves 6 to 8.

Blackberry pie

- Pastry for 9" double crust
2/3 to 3/4 cups sugar
3 tablespoons flour
3/4 cups blackberries, washed and drained

Preheat oven to 425 degrees. Line 9" pie pan with pastry. Mix sugar and flour and sprinkle 1/4 over pastry. Pour in berries and sprinkle rest of mixture over berries. Moisten edge of lower crust and lay upper crust over berries. Seal edges together and trim off excess dough. Make cuts in crust for steam vents over berries. Bake 15 minutes at 425 degrees. Reduce heat to 325 degrees and bake 20-30 minutes.

Romulus to sever league ties with South Central Conference

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

School officials confirmed today that Romulus will sever its ties with the South Central Conference. The Romulus school board recently voted unanimously to leave the conference after the 1990-91 school year.

The board action was taken after studying a 14-point recommendation from Fred Coleman, Romulus High athletic director.

"There are many reasons for this action," said Coleman, "but basically we made the recommendation because we felt we were in a lose-lose situation.

It was not fair to our kids and the athletes to remain in the SCC."

Coleman stressed that the other league members - Ann Arbor Pioneer, Ann Arbor Huron, Ypsilanti and Adrian - "are all college communities and are served by the colleges' facilities.

"These high schools have available to them the facilities of the colleges in their respective cities, which can be utilized year around.

"They have resources available to them that our kids don't," Coleman added, "therefore I felt that it was unfair to our athletes."

Because they are college towns, our SCC opponents have resources available to them that Romulus doesn't. We believe it would be unfair to our students if we continued our present relationship with the South Central Conference.

— Fred Coleman
Romulus athletic director

Coleman said a second strong factor in his recommendation to the board was school size: Romulus is losing student population, while most SCC schools are growing in size.

"We believe that within a period of two years we will be a Class B school; our opponents are big Class A schools," Coleman added.

The Michigan High School Athletic Association divides schools into classes according to student population. A Class A school is considered one having 991 and upwards to 1,700 students. Romulus' unofficial enrollment this year is pegged at 1,150.

Coleman was quick to point out that the move to leave the SCC should not be interpreted as any reflection upon the quality of the coaches, administrators or the athletes in the league.

"We enjoyed our affiliation with the league. We met with some fine and excellent people and will be leaving some friends behind. However, for the good of our school, its athletes and the coaching staff, we believe this move is necessary."

Romulus joined the SCC in 1985 and, prior to that year, competed as an independent.

Also, Romulus will have problems finding a new league because of the lack of a swimming pool. Conferences where the sport is strong will likely reject the school's application for membership.

"We know we are exchanging some problems for others. But we will aggressively seek a new league," Coleman said. "We are now in the process of developing schedules closer in line with our needs."

Tigers miss upset chance

Belleville High came within two points of cutting pre-season title favorite Wyandotte down to size.

"We had our chances," said Belleville coach Sam Villa, "and let them slip out of our hands. We had the momentum in a couple of excellent drives taken away by our own mistakes."

The 7-6 loss by Belleville to the Bruins of Wyandotte leaves the Tigers in a very precarious position. They will travel to Lincoln Park on Friday to take on a team that is coming off a 9-6 victory over Dearborn Fordson, the defending Wolverine 'A' Conference champ.

The victory has set Lincoln Park up as the team to beat in the conference this season.

"And we could do it if we can cut down on our mistakes," Villa said. "They (Lincoln Park) are big and strong. They also have an excellent passing game which will put our secondary to the test. But I feel if we can eliminate some of our mental mistakes we can play with them."

The Tigers managed to keep the outcome of the game against a highly-regarded Wyandotte team in doubt until the final minutes. After spotting the Bruins a 7-0 lead in the first quarter, the Tigers came back midway in the last quarter to force the Bruins up against the ropes, thanks to a Todd Yocum touchdown.

The junior Belleville quarterback scored on a 26-yard option play.

However, the next play proved to be the deciding one between the two conference teams.

Yocum again went to the option. This time the defense was ready. He handed the ball to fullback John Fisher, who was stopped by the Wyandotte defense just short of the goal line.

The Tigers also had an opportunity to score in the first quarter with the help of a Bruin fumble that was recovered by middle linebacker Ron Hunter at the Wyandotte 35. The Tigers moved to the nine where Yocum tossed an interception. It was one of two misfired misfires for the Tigers.

Yocum finished with four pass completions, good for 72 yards. He also rushed for an additional 41 yards on six attempts. Teammate Chris Zaccaria picked up 54 yards on 14 tries.

Tiger receiver Derrick Boles came up with a pair of catches, for 41 yards.

The Belleville defense remains impressive for two good reasons: Hunter and Steve Wygonik, the middle linebackers, continue to stand out.

"The defense has given up only one TD in eight quarters," Villa noted. "You have to be pleased with that kind of effort.

With a Warren defender obstructing his view and a second attempting to snatch the pigskin from his hands, tailback Carlos Brintley (6) seeks a solution out of his predicament. Brintley scored a touchdown the first time he got his hands on the ball in helping Robichaud bury visiting Warren. In the photo below, senior Robichaud quarterback Tyrone Wheatley (2) leaves a Warren defender behind him as he prepares for one of his long TD dashes. ANP photos by Werner Slocum/staff photographer

There is no stopping Wheatley

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Is there any way anyone can stop Tyrone Wheatley?

That question probably is on the minds of all of Robichaud's remaining football opponents after Wheatley's sterling performances in his first two appearances on the gridiron this season.

Wheatley, a 6-1, 210-pound senior quarterback, must have looked like Super Man to Warren as he scored four touchdowns and passed for a fifth to lead his Bulldogs to a 39-7 victory over their non-conference rivals in the heat of a Friday afternoon more suited for a day at the beach than football.

For all purposes, the officials could have gone swimming or evoked the mercy rule after the first two quarters when Coach Bob Yauck's Bulldogs had built up an insurmountable 33-0 lead.

"Obviously I am happy with the results of this game," said Coach Bob Yauck, drenched in sweat and exhilaration. "Our kids knew what they had to do, and they did it without any distractions."

The first time a Robichaud player had his hands on the ball, and in their first series, the Bulldogs scored. In little over eight minutes, Robichaud had a 13-0 edge.

Warren won the toss and elected to receive. After three futile running plays, the visitors punted to Carlos Brintley, who dashed 45-yards with the return for a touchdown. Wheatley then booted the extra point. With 8:50 showing on the clock, the Bulldogs had a 7-0 lead.

Then, after the ensuing kickoff, Warren committed its first of eight turnovers, a fumble recovered by Robichaud's Robert McClain at the Oriole 40 yard line. In their first series of the game, Wheatley managed to move his team to the Warren 27 despite an illegal procedure penalty and, at the 27, faced with a fourth down, the senior QB gambled and it paid off when William Flemming hauled in a TD pass.

A bad snap prevented Wheatley from going for the conversion. However, with 4:16 left in the opening quarter, Robichaud now had a 13-0 lead.

That's how the score remained until 11:15 of the second quarter when Wheatley turned on the speed that earned him two three gold medals in track - he won the 100, 200-meter dashes and state hurdles titles last April. In a dazzling display of deception, Wheatley outmaneuvered the Warren line of defense, broke loose into the secondary and bolted 34-yards for his second TD of the afternoon.

A pass to Flemming for the two-point conversion sailed through the hands of the receiver. But Warren must have seen the handwriting on the wall. They now trailed 19-0.

That quickly changed. After the Orioles gave up the ball via a punt to Brintley, who was nailed at the Warren 45, the Bulldogs went to work again.

On the sixth play of their series, with 6:50 showing on the clock, Wheatley again showed why he is one of the most sought after prep grid-ders in the country. After he was trapped by three would-be Warren defenders, Wheatley eluded his tacklers, jetted untouched past the defensive end into the secondary and leaving the frustrated Orioles in his wake as he sprinted 54-yards into the endzone.

At halftime, the Bulldogs had a 33-0 lead.

Using his bench indiscriminately in the second half, Yauck drew criticism from the Warren coaching staff for not yanking Wheatley earlier.

"You win, you're criticized; you lose, you're criticized. What can I say? I felt that game was not secured and the score too close."

Heartbreaker: Romulus falls

Romulus outplayed host Garden City Friday night in almost every category except where it counts the most - the final score.

"I felt we outplayed them," said Romulus coach Dan Henry after his Eagles lost a heartbreaking 7-6 decision to their non-conference rivals. "The one play that really killed us was that pass interference call."

Romulus safety Eben Smith snatched a Garden City pass from the hands of a receiver and was called for pass interference. That set up Garden City's only touchdown and decisive extra-point in the third quarter.

It took the Jaguars four plays to score from the five where Romulus had put up a heroic goal-line stand that looked impregnable. However, GC fullback Brian Norris managed to crash through the defense on his fourth attempt to score the touchdown from the one.

The Jaguars managed to boot the extra point.

Romulus struck first. In the second quarter junior quarterback Bob Bergeron put together a drive from midfield that was capped by Smith's two-yard touchdown sprint. In that successful drive, fullback Guam Lee pounded the Garden City defense for small gains.

"Lee was definitely the workhorse in that TD drive," Henry said.

The Eagles set up for the point-after attempt with kicker John Devereaux in position. Devereaux's kick, however, didn't clear the rushing Garden City defense.

Romulus had an opportunity to get on the scoreboard on at least two separate occasions when they marched inside the Garden City 10, but penalties and an interception killed their chances.

And, with 30 seconds left in the game, Bergeron surrendered the ball over to the Jaguars on a fourth-down-and-inches-to-go situation at the GC 30 when he fumbled.

"We're young and we're going to make our share of mistakes. That one was just a series of turnovers that hurt us. If we had picked up the first down we could have gone for the field goal," Henry said.

Smith and Lee, who each had 13 carries, provided the bulk of the Eagles' offense. Smith piled up 66 yards, while Lee accounted for 60. Defensively, sophomore tackle Mike Grube counted 13 unassisted tackles while Lee, a middle linebacker, had 10 tackles.

Romulus opens what will be its final South Central Conference season Friday night at home to Adrian. Adrian has lost its two non-conference games to Temperance Bedford and Wayne Memorial.

"They have a tremendous option quarterback," Henry cautioned, "who we must contain. They are also well-coached."

Inkster is shut out by River Rouge

Although Inkster football coach Ron Gardner isn't ready to put his hand on the panic button, after the Vikings' second consecutive setback, he's inching toward it.

"Our problem is that we can't score points," Gardner said after his team was blanked 21-0 by River Rouge. "We just can't put anything together."

How about borrowing Tyrone Wheatley from Robichaud, coach? Just kidding, coach. Just kidding.

However, Rouge wasn't. The Panthers got the job done early. Scoring twice in the first quarter, Rouge capitalized on Viking errors to build up a 14-0 lead after the first 12 minutes. The outcome of the game was never in doubt after the initial half.

The Vikings managed to come back and hold the Panthers scoreless in the second half. However, the Inkster offense was unable to move against the stubborn Rouge defense.

Inkster junior quarterback Craig Lewis went to the air six times and found receivers on two occasions for 50 yards. But most of the afternoon the Vikings were trying to dig themselves out of a hole that, ironically, they had created by their own mistakes.

One Inkster bright spot was the performance of 6-1, 265-pound defensive tackle James Myron, who had an exceptional game. Gardner says that the younger and newer members of the team "are doing the job. It's the seniors who have been disappointing so far this season."

Inkster will play before the home crowd Friday afternoon when it entertains the Flyers from Willow Run.

Bulldogs see title season ahead

Despite losing to Fordson and Edsel Ford in a double-dual meet last week, Robichaud High Cross country coach Jim Hadley feels the 1990 Bulldogs could be the team to beat in the Suburban Athletic Conference.

"I am pleased with our performances," Hadley said. "Both Fordson and Edsel are Class A schools and have excellent runners in their lineup. Our kids, if they continue to improve, have a chance to make it three in a row in our league."

Fordson outran the Bulldogs, 24-32, while Edsel Ford claimed a 20-30 victory over the Heights' harriers.

Billy Orsette finished second overall with a time of 17:56. He trailed Edsel's Chris Priestaf (17:36) across the finish line.

Perfect 3-0 Viking cagers remain undefeated

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

If Coach Dwight Hotchkiss and the Vikings of Inkster are to keep their modest 3-0 undefeated streak intact, they will have to find some way to get by Grosse Ile and Pontiac Central this week. Both the Islanders and Central are tough opponents on the hardwood and Hotchkiss realizes that his cagers can't afford a letdown. "We're in for some tough ones this week," Hotchkiss said after the Vikings eked out a narrow 50-46 victory over archrival, Garden City and turned back Ypsilanti Lincoln, 49-35, for their third consecutive victory. "We have been winning, but it's been too close for comfort." An at-the-buzzer basket by Tequan Abney lifted the Vikings to their four-point margin of victory over Garden City, which refused to quit despite the stifling heat. Inkster established a 10-7 lead after the first period and increased the margin to 25-17 before the intermission. However, Garden City came back and cut the Viking lead to four points, 37-33, in the third period. The two teams exchanged baskets evenly in the final period. Leatrice Scott sparked the winners with 16 points while Abney finished with 11. Latonya McMillan led the Viking assault on the boards with 11 rebounds.

New coach to rebuild Robichaud cage program

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

After a disastrous 1989 season, the Bulldogs of Robichaud have regrouped behind a new coach who says he believes that he may be able to fine-tune the 1990 cage machine. Robichaud won only one of its 18 women's basketball games last year. "It may be a cliché, but I feel that we have nowhere to go but up," said Francis McCauley, a former Robichaud cage star who has accepted the responsibility of fielding this year's team. "We have some talent on this team, but it's inexperienced." "My job is to perfect and get this club ready to play. We are so unorganized and definitely not in physical shape to contend. It's going to take time

The Vikings outscored Ypsilanti Lincoln 21-5 in the second period to build up a 29-16 lead at halftime. Hotchkiss turned loose his bench in the second half. Scott scored nine of her game-high 21 points in the first period and Shonette Lamar fired in two three-pointers in the second period. She also chipped in four steals and three assists in that pivotal quarter. McMillan added 10 rebounds to go along with her eight points. Romulus managed to stay with the Islanders in the first period (17-11) before the defending Huron Conference champs, led by Stacey Skaigir, sank nine of her game-high 20 points in the second frame to spark her team to a 38-18 halftime lead and a 67-36 victory over the Eagles. "We played a good first quarter," said Romulus coach Tim Cullen, "however, we only dressed seven players for the game and they (Grosse Ile) just wore us down." Sue Molenda, a three-year starter for the Eagles, finished with a team-high 13 points. She was five-of-nine at the free-throw line. Skaigir was joined in the double-figure scoring column by Lisa Riley, who finished with 16. Romulus traveled to Ypsilanti Lincoln Tuesday night and will open its final South Central Conference campaign on Thursday against one of the SCC title co-favorites, Adrian. Adrian is host.

to put together a semblance of a squad." Although Dearborn Heights Crestwood spoiled McCauley's debut as head coach, 50-32 last week, McCauley was pleased with the overall performance of his team. "We put more points on the board in this game than we did last year," McCauley said. "Simply put, our goal this year is to improve with each game." "If we can do this, I feel confident that we will win our share of games." Robichaud's Becki Perez led the Bulldogs in the scoring column. She sank 14 points. After meeting Temperance Bedford in a non-conference game Tuesday night, McCauley and the Bulldogs begin the Suburban Athletic Conference season tonight at Willow Run.

Huron may have pay to play

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

As if they didn't have enough problems on the gridiron, New Boston Huron athletes may have to "pay to play" if a millage request is turned down by the voters this week. "Many of my kids told me they couldn't afford to continue to play if they had to pay," said Huron Coach Greg Hammond. "It's a sad commentary on what is happening, but there is little, if anything, we can do about it." Because of financial problems in the school district, the school board has asked for a tax increase. Without it, the trustees say they would have to eliminate many programs, including athletics. Consequently, the board has offered an alternative. They propose to keep some athletic programs alive if the athletes would pay a share of the costs. School officials say that the athletes may be asked to pay about $200 each.

Tigers are off and running

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

After the Tigers of Belleville High finished fourth at the Ypsilanti Invitational, Coaches Sam Vicchy and Dave Medley will ready their teams for the New Boston Huron Cross Country Invitational. The Huron invitational will be staged Saturday, beginning at 9 a.m. in the Lower Huron Metro Park in New Boston. Belleville finished fourth in both the women's and the men's divisions at Ypsilanti. Both Vicchy and Medley saw the introductory meet as a "good starting point." "It was hot and horrendously humid," noted Vicchy, who began his second year as head coach of the girls' team. "I am very pleased with the results. We have a young team, and these initial meets are just for experience." Medley said his Tigers "didn't run that bad for a first meet. It's a starting point for us." Sterling Heights Stevenson won the title in the women's division after compiling a total of 48 points. Livonia Stevenson was second (65), followed, in order, by Plymouth-Canton (69), Belleville (91), Plymouth-Salem (102), Monroe (136), Ypsilanti (207) and Pinckney (258).

Belleville's Ann Gray, one of the top runners in the state last year, launched her sophomore year with a sparkling silver medal. The 14-year-old runner toured the 5,000-meter Ypsilanti course in 21:29, finishing second only to a Monroe runner. The Tigers also received a 13th place finish from Carmelita Martell (23:10), while Rachel Hunter was 18th (23:52); Christine Wilson, 28th (24:41); and Amy Fisher, 30th (25:40). The Belleville Junior Varsity made its cross country debut by winning the first-place trophy. The Tigers garnered 43 team points thanks to Kelly Wauer, who finished 10th (27:25); Tara Jared, 11th (27:32); Valerie Cardinal, 13th (29:10); Dorvia Thomas, 16th (29:27); and Nakesha Harris, 18th (30:13). In the meantime, Monroe, the defending Wolverine 'A' Conference champ, unveiled its 1990 team at Ypsilanti, and the Trojans again proved they will be a power to contend with in 1990. The champs finished first with 34 points, followed by Canton (58), Pinckney (64), Belleville (118), Salem (120), Sterling Heights Stevenson (131), and Livonia Stevenson (171).

In separate bowl combine:
4 cups flour
5 cups oatmeal (place small amounts into blender after measuring and puree until all 5 cups have been turned into powder)
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
2 teaspoons baking soda
Mix all ingredients together and add:
24 ounces semi-sweet chocolate chips
1 7-ounce Hershey bar, chopped into bite-size pieces
3 cups chopped nuts, if desired

Place golf-ball-sized cookie 2 inches apart on an ungreased cookie sheet and bake at 375 degrees for 9 minutes. This will make 112 cookies. Cookies will look pale but do not overbake. Cookies harden as they cool. Unlike the cookies purchased, these will keep beautifully if stored in an air-tight container. The recipe is easily divided in half and the dough will freeze for several weeks, although the cookies from frozen dough do not seem to keep as well as those baked from freshly mixed dough.

Each year, hundreds of children and young people are abducted and exploited. Their parents and family wait anxiously day after day for word of their child who was so viciously taken from their home. The National Center for Missing and Exploited Children is in the business of publicizing and ultimately solving these mysterious disappearances. The Center, based in Virginia, is responsible for most of the missing children advertisements which you see on milk cartons, billboards and such. The photographs on this page were taken from the files of the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children. They are all actively being sought by their parents, with very few leads. These children may be living in your neighborhood, attending your church, or even sitting next to your child in school. Anyone with information concerning the whereabouts of any of these children is asked to call the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children at 1-800-843-5678. If your child is missing, call your local police department right away. If your child is at home, hug them and tell them about the dangers of the world and teach them to be safe.
Thanks to these local businesses for sponsoring these missing children.

Cost of auto parts make 'chop shops' profitable

Michigan is leader in solving growing problem

Most car buyers know a new car depreciates as soon as they drive it off the lot. But most don't know rebuilding the car with all new parts would cost three times or more than what they paid for it.

This is one of the reasons why chop shops are such a profitable business, according to Alliance of American Insurers officials. Each year, the organization picks one car to study. The car is taken apart piece by piece and all of the parts are priced individually. The study doesn't include labor.

Michigan is one of the leading states in devising methods to crack down on car thefts, according to William Liddane of Help Eliminate Auto Thefts.

Law enforcement agencies and insurance companies have joined forces to reduce the number of chop shops and car thefts. "The people stealing the cars are certainly a problem, but they are generally stealing the car for a person running a chop shop. If you close chop shops down, you shut down a lot of the problem," Liddane said.

In 1989, insurers officials studied a 1989 Nissan Maxima, which had a sticker price of $17,499. To rebuild that car would cost $60,755, excluding labor.

The car used in the study was equipped with air conditioning, power antenna, door locks, windows and mirrors, cruise control and a stereo with a cassette player. These are features which attract car thieves, according to Liddane.

"Auto companies buy parts in bulk. If you purchased just one outside mirror - compared to the 5,000 the auto companies buy, you would pay a higher price," said Scott Simons, media relations manager for HEAT.

The year before, the organization used a 1988 Buick Skylark, with a sticker price of $12,568. The cost of replacing all of the parts was $40,000, according to Liddane.

Each year drivers have to endure the rising cost of auto insurance. Chop shops, which have become lucrative businesses, are the primary reason for the rising cost of insurance, according to Liddane.

To stop car theft and put chop shops out of business, the Michigan insurance companies and law enforcement agencies are offering rewards to anyone who may have information leading to the arrests of those people involved in car theft. The highest rewards are given for the tips leading to the closing of chop shops.

As car thieves continue to perfect techniques to steal cars and insurance prices continue to climb, law enforcement agencies will have to rely more and more on agencies like HEAT, which offer rewards for information.

Anyone with information about car thefts or chop shops, can contact HEAT by calling 1-800-242-HEAT. The information and the name of the individual will remain confidential. Rewards are offered up to $10,000.

All of the calls are directed to the Michigan State Police, and the hotline is staffed from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Hot wheels

The 1991 Pontiac Grand Prix GTP is sure to turn heads as it makes its way into area showrooms. This car and others introduced for 1991 by the major automakers will be featured in the Associated Newspapers 1991 Premiere Auto Section to be published Oct. 11. For more information about the section, phone Chris Brown or Barbara Wilson at 729-4000.
